

All the details for your 7-week coach led ProFM Class

AFD Professional Development is excited to announce a partnership with ProFMI to offer the newest credential in the field of facilities management, the ProFM.

The ProFM is an international credential designed to benefit all facility professionals, regardless of career stage, industry, or country. The ProFM Body of Knowledge defines the 19 functional FM knowledge areas and five cross-functional competencies required of today's facility professionals. www.profmi.org

Meet Your Instructors

Two highly respected FM professional development educators have teamed up to provide your ProFM training.

Alana F. Dunoff ProFM, FMP, IFMA Fellow, has nearly 30 years' experience in strategic facility planning and project management in the corporate commercial, healthcare, and retail industries. She has over 18 years as an FM educator and adjunct professor and currently teaches in the Facility Management Bachelor of Science Program at Temple University. She is a qualified instructor for the IFMA FMP and ProFM.

Alana was the first woman to earn her ProFM credential. She has helped over 500+ students earn their FM designations. Alana earned her B.S. in Psychology from Boston University and her M.S. in Facility Planning & Management from Cornell University.

James Myers, P.E. ProFM has decades of experience in energy, engineering, education, and business. For 22 years, he was the Director of the Penn State Facilities Engineering Institute. Mr. Myers has developed and provided customized training for facility professionals for more than 30 years. Mr. Myers received his B.S. in Civil and Environmental Engineering from Cornell University and M.S. in Architectural Engineering from Penn

State University and is a registered professional engineer and one of the first to receive the ProFM certification.

Class Structure

Classes will be conducted as a coach-led model, with 7 - 2 ½ hour virtual classes starting April 29, 2021 and finishing on July 15, 2021. Coach-led classes offer a mix of high-level focused content, group activities, practices quizzes, and other study preparation tools. The success of this model relies on students advanced preparation for class. Classes are available to entire departments or individual facility professionals. The first class is a course kick-off, providing a high-level view of the course material, the online support system, and our approach for the remainder of the content led classes.

FAQ

What is the value of a Coach Led course? You can read the material, take the quizzes and study for the assessments all on your own, but having an instructor helps you to focus on the right material, explain concepts that may be new to you, and help you stay accountable. We will stick with you through the entire process from instruction through your assessments. We provide you with test taking strategies, tips, and practice questions all to help you achieve your goal of earning your ProFM credential.

What if I miss a class? While we encourage students to attend every class, if you miss a class and we are notified in advance of the class, we will do our best to accommodate your needs.

What is the final assessment for the ProFM? There are 2 final assessment tests for the ProFM, one is knowledge based it as 75 multiple choice questions, the second is focused on practical application of the material and has 50 questions. Both tests are timed and are inclusive of material from all 5 modules of the Body of Knowledge. Tests can be taken until you pass and passing one test is not dependent on being permitted to take or pass the other first.

How much does it cost to take the exams? There are no additional application, administration, or exam fees. Tests may be taken as many times as necessary to pass for a period of one year after registering for the program.

Once I pass the exams, how do I receive my ProFM Credential? You will be asked to register your credential and confirm your contact information for an official ProFM certificate to be delivered to you. Once registered, you will be able to save and print a proof of course completion as you await your official certificate, and you may immediately begin using "ProFM" in their signature, resume, and CV.

How long is my ProFM credential valid? The ProFM credential is valid for three (3) years from date on which you pass the ProFM final assessment. To renew, ProFM credential holders must earn a minimum of 45 continuing education Renewal Credits and pay a nominal fee of $99.
